BRIAND WILL REMAIN IN FRENCH CABINET

Decision of Statesman Occasion for Rejoicing in France.

PARIS, May 27.—(P)—Foreign Minister Aristide Briand withdrew his resignation at the meeting of the council of ministers today and said he would remain in the French cabinet. M. Briand made his decision only after the urgent demands of Premier Pierre Laval and his fellow ministers. The meeting lasted nearly three hours, during which the foreign minister explained the results of his work at the meetings of the league council and the Pan-American commission at Geneva.

The decision of M. Briand to pursue the immense task of guiding France's foreign policy and the even larger idea of the creation of a United States of Europe was received with gratification by millions of French citizens, especially women.

Many New Entries Seek Title Of State's 'Most Beautiful'

As The Atlanta Constitution-Capitol theater beauty contest approaches the time set for the big beauty promenade on the stage of the Capitol theater during the week of June 1, many new entries are flowing in. Some at the theater, some at The Constitution, and some at the Robert R. Jennings studios, 761 1-2 Peachtree street, where each contestant is given a free sitting by sponsors of the event.

When the beauty promenade is staged, the audience at the theater will act as judges and by their applause—or lack of it—will narrow down the field to 12 select beauties, who will be passed upon by expert judges to determine the winner of the free trip to the international beauty contest.

PATROLMAN UNARMED, SAYS CROWLEY'S GIRL

Helen Walsh Tells How Youthful Desperado Committed Murder.

MINNEOLA, N. Y., May 27.—(P)—Helen Walsh, 16-year-old sweetheart of Francis Crowley, today described how the gunman shot Patrolman Frederick Hirsch to death on the night of May 6.

Answering District Attorney Elvin Edwards' questions, the girl denied Hirsch or Patrolman Peter Yocice, his companion, carried guns when they approached the automobile parked in a Merriack lane.

The girl said Crowley, after the shooting, took Hirsch's pistol and held the windshield so the bullet holes would not show, and that he later abandoned the automobile in Jamaica and took her by cab to the Manhattan apartment, where later they were captured with Rudolph Durringer, confessed slayer of Virginia Brunnen, dance hall hostess.

Under cross-examination by former District Attorney Charles R. Weeks, Crowley's counsel, who will seek to prove Crowley shot in self-defense, the Walsh girl said Crowley told her Hirsch had approached with drawn gun and placed it against his stomach. Later, she said, Crowley showed her three shells which he said failed to go off when Hirsch attempted to shoot.

CROWLEY WILL PLEAD MENTAL WEAKNESS

MINNEOLA, N. Y., May 27.—(P)—The defense of Francis Crowley to the charge of murdering Policeman Frederick Hirsch will be that he had been led into a life of crime by a woman—Vera Wood, night club hostess known as Billie Dunn.

His attorney, Charles R. Weeks, outlined Crowley's defense today after two and a half days had been spent in picking a jury to try the youth.

Valuable Art Objects To Be Seized in Spain

MADRID, May 27.—(P)—The Spanish cabinet tonight empowered all provincial governors in Spain to take possession of any valuable art objects which they deemed "menaced" with the prospect of disappearance or destruction.

The new ruling was a subject of protest by Catholics who allege the government is not empowered to seize private property without adequate guarantees. Most of the valuable works of art in Spain are owned by church organizations.

SEABOARD RAILROAD TO SPEND $3,500,000

Powell Expresses Belief Prospects for Better Business Are Good.

MIAMI, Fla., May 27.—(P)—Leigh R. Powell, president and co-receiver of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company, said here today the company planned to spend $3,500,000 on improvements to the system and its service during 1931 and that he considered prospects good for increased business.

Mr. Powell arrived here last night accompanied by E. S. S. Sunderland, trustee for the first and consolidated Seaboard bondholders' committee, on a tour of inspection of the road.

The outlook for railroads, as with other industries, seems good for the coming year, Mr. Powell said. He added that $4,000,000 of receivers' certificates have been sold and that the $3,500,000 of capital investment of improvements to the system would be in addition to regular maintenance and replacements.

Key Is Challenged by Uphaw To Debate on Liquor Question

W. D. Uphaw, former congressman and an ardent "dry," Wednesday issued a statement attacking Mayor James L. Key's alleged "wet" utterances in France and challenged the mayor to a debate on the liquor question when he returns from France, where he is attending the French colonial exposition.

"I hereby challenge this 'damp' devotee of Parisian ideals to meet me in debate at the city auditorium in Atlanta concerning the whole question," Uphaw said.

"I must remind the voters that Key did not talk this way when he ran for congress and was defeated by an opponent who ran on a bone-dry platform," Uphaw continued. "He did not run for mayor on a wet ticket and if he wants to we will put up some high-class champion of constitutional integrity and smash every jug and break every bottle of his liquor program."

Uphaw recited at length his fight in congress in favor of the prohibition law. In conclusion, he called upon Atlanta to "rally in repudiation of the monumental folly of Atlanta's mayor in far-away Paris."

REVIVAL IN BUSINESS IS DUE, SAYS DAWES

NEW YORK, May 27.—(P)—General Charles G. Dawes, ambassador to England, banker and author of the "Dawes plan," said on arrival from England that "the mass change to optimism, which will mark the beginning of the upturn in general business" is "about due."

"Most of the people I met on the boat coming over were talking about stock exchange prices as an index of things," said the former vice president in a statement prepared for the press.

"They seemed to overlook the fact that the multitudes are not rushing through the stock exchange channels as they were two years ago and it has therefore ceased to be a reflection of any mass attitude except that of inertia."

"For the first evidence of the existence of that general better feeling of the masses from which springs increased mass activity in business, we must look to statistics which really measure the mass movement—say in electric power consumption—not to the prices at which a few discouraged holders are selling stocks to a few wise buyers of the stock exchange...."

Convicted last night by a jury in circuit court the Howes face one to twenty years in the state penitentiary. Sentence was deferred by Judge C. E. Chillingworth. Defense attorneys were undecided whether to ask for a new trial.

American Citizen To Face Italian Court

ROME, May 27.—(P)—Michele Schirru, who is scheduled to appear before the special tribunal for the defense of the state, will be the first American citizen to be tried by this highest of Italian courts.

If convicted, he may face a death sentence on a charge of trying to overthrow the Italian government by plotting against the life of Premier Mussolini.

Schirru, who also is charged with wounding three police officials and with possessing bombs, was naturalized an American citizen in 1926. His small daughter, Carmela, lives in America.

When arrested February 3, Schirru, who is 32 years old, had been sought for alleged communistic activities in New York and Paris.

At first he pretended ignorance of such activities but suddenly drew a gun and shot the three officers. He then shot himself through the mouth.

Yes, indeed There are HOMING PENNIES

Perhaps you don't believe there are any Homing Pennies. Perhaps you think that money just naturally has a habit of going places. And going and going and going... Well, if that's your idea, it's plain to us you've been trading in the wrong stores.

There's an A & P store as close to your house as we could possibly put it. It's selling the best food at prices that allow hundreds of dollars in penny savings to find their way back to the homes of its customers every year.

That's what we mean by Homing Pennies—the money you save, which returns home with you in your purse after shopping at A & P. And, once there, it's the money that really stays at home—at your home. It amounts to plenty, too; in fact, it's many times greater than our own profit.

U. S. WILL DENY I'M ALONE CLAIM

Government To Assert Ship Was American Owned in Note to Canada.

BY JOSEPH H. BAIRD.
WASHINGTON, May 27.—(UP)—A United States reply denying Canada's claim for damages in the famous I'm Alone run-ship case is virtually completed, the United Press has learned, and will be sent to Ottawa about June 10.

Unless the present draft is changed—and there is no prospect it will be—this government will deny Canada's claim for pecuniary compensation on the ground that the I'm Alone, although Canadian-registered, actually was owned by an American bootlegger. This contention will be based on evidence gathered during a two-year secret investigation of the liquor gangs which operated the ill-fated run ship.

The I'm Alone, flying the Canadian flag, was sunk in the Gulf of Mexico March 22, 1929, by the American coast guard cutter, Decatur. One member of the crew was drowned.

Canada's bill of particulars, asking compensation on behalf of the Eugene Creaser Shipping Company, was filed with the American agent, George Wharton Pepper, through the state department March 2 of the year. This document was never made public. The United Press learned, however, that Canada enumerated the ship and articles aboard it for compensation, leaving the amount to the discretion of the judges.

American officials are prepared to offer evidence that the Danny Hogan bootleg ring, operating from New York, owned the I'm Alone. This evidence shows that Hogan was in frequent telephonic communication with George Hearn, a Canadian, who bought the Eugene Creaser Company in November, 1928, for $100.

If Canadian officials accept the American contention, officials believe the I'm Alone case—perhaps the most sensational one to arise from this country's efforts to keep out foreign liquor—will be quietly closed. The state department already has expressed regret that the coast guard found it necessary to fire on a ship flying the Canadian flag, thus disposing of the "courtesy" angle of the incident, so that the pecuniary element remains unsettled, it was said.

Model Plane Contest Entries Instructed On How To Construct Dixie Flyer Pusher

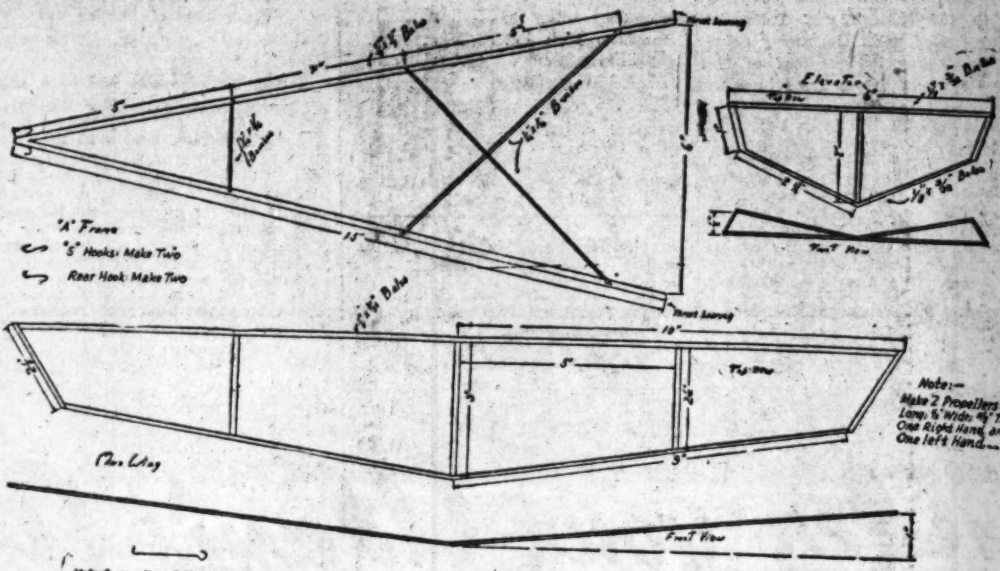

Diagram showing framework and details of construction of the Dixie Flyer, 45-inch twin pusher model airplane.

With many entry blanks for The Constitution's model airplane contest already in hand, George S. Haymans, Jr., who is supervising the contest, today publishes the first of three articles describing different types of planes, and calls attention to the fact that the boys who wish to compete in the contest at Piedmont park next week must fill out and send in their entry blanks.

In his first specifications for the construction of a model plane, Mr. Haymans today gives full details on the "Dixie Flyer" type of twin pusher, probably the most popular type of model airplane now being constructed.

While Mr. Haymans under the rules of the contest will not assist any of the contestants in the construction of their planes, he will make suggestions for such adjustments on the planes as will be calculated to lengthen the time they will stay in the air. Any of the contestants wanting such assistance can reach Mr. Haymans by telephone at Hemlock 8686.

Reports from several of the junior high schools of the city Wednesday day told of interest being manifested by entire classes in the contest which will result in some boys being sent by The Constitution to Camp Dixie for two months this summer. This camp, valued at $225, entitles the boy to the complete course at this splendid southern camp for boys. Air instruction in one of the planes of the Curtiss-Wright Company will be given the winners of second and third places, and in addition the ten boys whose planes stay in the air the longest will be taken on a specially conducted tour of the big shops of this company at Candler field, during which they will be shown every detail of the construction of a plane.

HOW TO BUILD "DIXIE FLYER."
BY GEORGE S. HAYMANS, JR.

The twin pusher type of model airplane has shown up well at every contest it has entered. However, because of the skill and time necessary to build one, many boys prefer to build the simpler types of planes. The plane that I shall describe is very easy to build; in fact, it is almost as simple as the well-known Baby R. O. G. It is not an endurance plane, although flights of more than 45 seconds are not uncommon.

When planning the model course for Camp Dixie last summer, the writer could not find a standard design of twin pusher that would do for beginners to build, but after a great deal of experimenting, finally designed this model, which the boys at camp named the "Dixie Flyer." It proved to be the most popular model used that summer.

Almost any boy can build this model and secure a good flight with his first attempt. The plane is not very fragile; therefore it can be flown repeatedly without damage, thus giving more satisfaction to its builder than the usual simple model.

Materials Necessary.
The following materials are necessary for the construction of a "Dixie Flyer":

Two 1-4 by 1-8 by 15 inches, hard balsa motor sticks.

Five 1-8 by 3-32 by 20 inches, balsa wing spars.

Two 1-2 by 5-8 by 6 inches, balsa propeller blocks.

Ten feet of 1-8-inch flat rubber for motors.

Three feet of No. 6 music wire.

One sheet of imperial Japanese tissue for wings. (21 by 31 inches).

Two 1-4 by 15 inches bamboo strips for "X" braces.

Two small thrust bearings and four small washers.

One small bottle of "Smasco glue."

One small bottle of banana oil.

The total price of the above articles should not exceed 60 cents.

Construction of Plane.
Let us begin with the wing. Lay a large sheet of waxed paper on a smooth surface and fasten the corners down with thumb tacks. Take the 1-8 by 3-32 inch balsa and cut it up in the following lengths: One 20 inches, two 9 inches, one 3 inches, two 2-1-4 inches, and two 2-1-8 inches for the wing; one 6 inches, one 2 inches, two 2-15-16 inches, and two 1 inch for the elevator. Lay the 20-inch piece on the waxed paper with the 1-8-inch side up and in the exact middle cement the 3-inch piece, making sure that it makes a right angle with the 20-inch piece. Five inches on each side of the middle cement a 2-1-4-inch piece. Lay one 9-inch piece along each of the outer ends so as to form a flat "V" (see drawing). Cement them in place. Now cement the 2-1-8-inch pieces onto the ends of the wing and line up the wing until it assumes the shape shown in the drawing.

While the wing is drying, let us make the elevator. Lay the 6-inch piece on the waxed paper with the 1-8-inch side up, and in the exact middle cement the 2-inch piece. At each end of the 6-inch piece cement a 1-16-inch piece, and then cement a 2-15-16-inch piece along each of the open sides as shown in the drawing. Line up the elevator symmetrically.

Turn the corners where the 1-inch piece joins the 2-15-16-inch piece and insert a 1-2-inch block under each. This lifts the corners so they will make the plane climb. Place weights on the rest of the elevator to hold it flat while drying.

The next step is the construction of the "A" frame of fuselage. Mix one end of each motor stick until, when placed together the other ends are exactly 6 inches apart. Cement the motor sticks together. This forms a tall "V." Five inches from the pointed end drill a little hole in each motor stick. Do the same at distances of 9 and 14 inches from the pointed end. Then cement the 1-16-inch strips from the bamboo and insert them in the holes as shown in the drawing. Place a drop of "Smasco Glue" where each joint is made. Line up fuselage, allow to dry, and cut off surplus bamboo.

The next task is the carving of the propellers. Follow the usual method of laying off the block by diagonal lines, etc. Be sure to make one right-handed prop and one left-handed one. Then cut the prop parts as shown in the full-size drawing. Cement the two rear rubber blocks to the pointed end of the fuselage and one prop hanger or thrust bearing to each of the other ends of the motor sticks. Cement the prop shafts in place.

Forming Dihedral Angle.
After the main wing is dry break it in the middle. Put a drop of "Smasco Glue" in each joint and lay the wing across two blocks one inch high. Pull the middle of the wing down to the table. This forms a flat "V" making what is known as the dihedral angle. This angle acts as the pilot to a certain extent and keeps the plane on an even keel.

After the wing and elevator are completely dry they may be covered with the Japanese tissue. This tissue is held in place by the banana oil which is a light cement. Care should be taken that all wrinkles are smoothed out before the banana oil dries. When the banana oil is finally dry trim the excess paper from the edges with a sharp knife or razor blade. A single coat of light dope may be applied to the wing and elevator surfaces to draw them tight. Additional strength may be secured by painting all balsa parts with banana oil.

After all joints are dry the plane is ready for its trial flight. Attach the elevator to the pointed end of the fuselage with a small rubber band. The wing is held over the "X" on the fuselage in the same manner. Make up two rubber motors in place. Wind up the props so that each will throw the wind in the same direction, away from the plane. Launch the model into the wind and away it goes.

The builder may put skids on the plane. This will make the model more stable and will enable it to rise from the ground.

LONG ISLAND WATERS GIVE UP 2 BOAT DEAD

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—The body of a second victim of the foundered sloop Sea Fox, which put out from City Island Saturday with a party of seven prominent young New Yorkers, was recovered from Long Island sound today.

Half a mile offshore from Norwalk, Conn., a boatman found the body of Miss Doris Dewey, 29, psychologist at Bellevue hospital. She was clad in pink lounging pajamas over a bathing suit. Identification was made by Professor Robert W. Spear.

The body of Mrs. Marcia Snedden, 25, a psychiatrist known professionally as Miss Marcia Mendenhall, was recovered yesterday. Little hope was held that the other members of the party were alive, but eight coast guard cutters, a group of police patrol boats from New York and three airplanes searched Long Island waters all day.

Two lift-preservers from the Sea Fox were found, one on the beach of Pratt's island, the other off Tokeneke. One of them was partly burned, leading to belief there had been a fire aboard the sloop—possibly an explosion in the engine—while she was fighting squally weather Saturday night or early Sunday.

The missing are Donald Snedden, 28, associate professor of education at New York University, husband of Marcia Mendenhall Snedden and owner and navigator of the sloop; Robert Mendenhall, 29, of the statistical bureau, Columbia University, brother of Mrs. Snedden; his wife, Florence, 28; Mark Coyne, 28, instructor at the Riverdale Country school, and Robert Johnston, night club entertainer.

Broker Acquitted.
ATLANTA, Ala., May 27.—(AP)—Roy Demoney, New Orleans broker, was acquitted in inferior court here late yesterday on charges of second degree murder placed against him following an automobile collision May 13 in which Miss Johnnie D. Keeton, 19, and John Cochran, 60, of Holly Tree, Ala., were fatally injured.

INSURED MEN TESTIFY IN POISONING CASE

CHICAGO, May 27.—(AP)—Men whose life insurance policies make Mrs. Margaret Summers the beneficiary added their testimony today to the post-mortem evidence given yesterday against the woman accused of poisoning four members of her household.

Her husband, her nephew, two brothers and two boarders all have died within three years—four of them victims of poisoning; the other two of a cause yet undetermined.

Samuel Strauss, who drives a cab owned by Mrs. Summers and lives at her home, was found ill today. He, too, has signed a policy that would bring her money at his death. He told the prosecutors he had lived with Mrs. Summers since October.

"I only signed one policy, but I was told that Mrs. Summers had three other policies taken out for me," he said. "I don't know whether that is true or not."

Robert Barker, 50, another policy holder, said he agreed to Mrs. Summers' suggestion that he take out insurance after she promised to make the premium payments. Others still living and insured in the widow's favor are Mrs. Margaret Ritty, daughter of Mrs. Summers by adoption without legal process, and Mrs. Ritty's three children, all insured for $500 each. The 19 policies discovered by investigators totaled $9,028, of which Mrs. Summers has already realized $6,700.

The undertaker who directed the funerals of all the men informed the authorities today of a sixth death hitherto unreported—that of Mrs. Summers' brother, John A. Meyers, who died last August.

CONVICTED NEGRO JAILED AT TOWER

Downer To Be Kept Here Until Removal to State Farm.

John Downer, Elbert county negro, convicted at Elberton Tuesday night on a charge of attacking a young woman and sentenced to die in the electric chair at Milledgeville June 15, was held at the Pulpit tower Wednesday, Elbert county authorities indicating that Downer will be kept here until transferred to the state prison farm.

The negro was returned to Atlanta after his conviction by a detachment of 300 soldiers of the 122d infantry sent to Elberton to guard the trial. The troops were in command of Colonel Gerald P. O'Keefe, the regimental commander.

Three other negroes, arrested in and near Elberton in connection with the case and who were taken to the trial, also were brought back to Atlanta by Colonel O'Keefe and are held in the tower pending direction from Sheriff Burch Seymour. Two others, brought here immediately after the attack, also were being held, but it is expected that they will be released in a day or two.

Downer was convicted by an Elbert county jury on the first ballot. The jurors required only six minutes to reach their decision.

TRIAL OF PANTAGES CONTINUES SLOWLY

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 27.—(AP)—The trial of Alexander Pantages, wealthy showman, and three co-defendants on conspiracy and morals charges, today dragged through the third day with prospects that a jury would not be completed before tomorrow night.

Mrs. Emma Clippinger, the eldest prospective juror, was questioned concerning a conversation she had yesterday during a recess with Mrs. Lois Pantages, wife of the defendant, and then challenged by the prosecutor.

One prospective juror, a woman, was excused for cause after she admitted she was prejudiced against anyone who might use intoxicating liquor. Three women and nine men were tentatively seated in the jury box this afternoon.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE REFUSED BY PASTOR

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 27.—(AP)—Dr. Hay Watson Smith, pastor of the fashionable Second Presbyterian church, here whose removal as a minister is sought on the ground of unsoundness in the faith, last Sunday declined to permit his congregation to adopt a resolution endorsing his views on evolution, it was learned today.

Dr. Smith in his sermon discussed impending charges to be brought by Dr. William McPheters, of Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, Ga., and said he preferred to leave the matter to the general assembly of the church which meets tomorrow at Montreal, N. C.

War Mothers Travel Over Sons' Sea Graves

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—A group of Gold Star Mothers who will not see white crosses marking their sons' graves on French battlefields, sailed today on the President Roosevelt to pay tribute to those who lost their lives "somewhere at sea."

On Decoration Day they will drop flowers into the ocean. The contingent, which is the fourth sent by the government to visit the battlefields of Europe this year, will proceed to Cherbourg, France, and thence to England. It will return on the liner George Washington, which docks here June 26.

NEW ORLEANS BROKER THOUGHT LOST IN LAKE

NEW ORLEANS, May 27.—(AP)—A large fleet of pleasure craft, which cruised Lake Pontchartrain all night today reported no trace had been found of Robert M. Ellis, 38-year-old cotton broker, who fell overboard from a yacht on the lake late last night, and apparently drowned.

Mr. Ellis was one of a number of society folk aboard William S. Penick's yacht, Otella, which put out from the Southern Yacht Club late yesterday with a crew of eight men and 17 guests for a cruise on Lake Pontchartrain.

Three miles off Spanish fort, Ellis, who was sitting on a stern rail, accidentally fell over the side. Life boats were quickly lowered but no trace of him was found.

He was known as the "Connecticut" room. There are but eight rooms in the house.

HIROHITO SANCTIONS JAPANESE WAGE CUTS

TOKYO, May 27.—(AP)—Agitation against a wage cut for 60,000 employees in all government departments apparently collapsed tonight, relieving fears that a railway strike would be called and spread to other industries throughout Japan.

Sanction by Emperor Hirohito of the cabinet's reduction of wages of government employees receiving more than $42.50 monthly appeared to have ended opposition. The order, effective June 1, cabinet officers said, would save the government $4,000,000 yearly.

The projected sympathetic strike of 210,000 railway workers, 9,000 of whom were affected by the wage cut, was forestalled by the arrest of 34 agitators.

Taxes To Play Major Role At Next Congress Session

Balance of Power Expected To Govern Trend of Legislative Action Taken in December.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.
WASHINGTON, May 27.—The net result of the discussion about federal taxation is that the next session of congress, beginning December 7, will most certainly discuss taxes and readjustment of the tax system. Taxation is primarily a function of one chamber of congress—the house. Something, though not a great deal, depends on whether the house is organized by the democrats or by the republicans. If the republicans organize it, tax legislation is a possibility. If the democrats organize it, it is a probability. Democratic leaders have not the faintest hesitation in saying it would be to their advantage politically to call conspicuous attention to the deficit and to enact certain kinds of tax increases.

The common assumption that both parties within congress are moved by a strong and universal desire to postpone all consideration of taxes until after the presidential election next year is a mistake.

Views Divided.
As to some kinds of taxation, a majority in both parties would prefer no action. They would prefer not to introduce any new tax having general application, such as a tax on gasoline or re-enactment of either the tax on automobiles or the tax on theater admissions. They would prefer not to extend the application of the income tax downward so as to affect a larger number of people than the roughly two and a half millions who now pay all of it.

These, however, are not the forms of taxation that are brought forward by democratic and progressive leaders. What they mean by new taxation

Roosevelt and Dawes Meet on Ocean Trip
NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—An ocean voyage has developed a fast personal friendship between a prominent democrat and a prominent republican who never met before.
Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, and Charles G. Dawes, ambassador to England, both arrived today on the liner Bremen from Europe.
"Did you meet General Dawes?" a reporter asked the governor.
"I certainly did," Mr. Roosevelt replied. "We spent almost every evening together."
"A fine gentleman" was the way the ambassador described the governor.

or more taxation is the proposal made by Senator Couzens, of Michigan. His proposal is that persons or corporations having an income of over a hundred thousand dollars should pay a higher rate of tax than they now do; that the tax on estates at death should be increased and that there should be a tax on gifts made by one individual to another, such as are often made by parents to children in anticipation of death.

As to this type of increase in taxation bearing on a comparatively small number of persons, there is no reluctance among a sufficient number of congressmen to compose a majority.

Opposition of Administration.
The administration is opposed to any increase of taxes whatever. Formal statement was made in March to the effect that if congress would keep within the appropriations recommended by the executive departments of the government in the budget there would be no increase in taxes. Since that statement, nothing has happened except lapse of time. It is true lapse of time has indicated continued smallness of business profits and hence continued smallness of the income taxes that will be collected next year.

Nevertheless, it is still possible for the administration to avoid increase of taxes by the December session of congress provided congress acts according to the condition made in the administration's statement. This, however, is precisely what congress probably will not do and if congress does not limit itself within the administration's program of appropriations, obviously increase of taxation can hardly be avoided.

Veterans' Appropriations.
The administration's program of avoiding tax increase rests on avoidance of great gifts by congress to veterans, for example. That congress is likely to make large appropriations to veterans and possibly others to the unemployed is already clear. It is true that single appropriations of this kind can be vetoed by the president. There was proof last spring, however, that appropriations for veterans can be passed by congress with more than two-thirds majority necessary to overcome a presidential veto. Once congress makes appropriations like this and once it overrides the president's program for economy, avoidance of increased taxation goes by the board.

Decree of Divorce Is Given Husband Of Ruth Rogers

Echoes of the John S. Garmon slaying by Mrs. Peggy French some months ago were heard in Judge E. E. Pomeroy's division of the Fulton superior court Wednesday, when Thomas H. Rogers, husband of Mrs. Ruth Rogers, who is alleged to have been the woman over whom the shooting occurred, was granted his first verdict in a suit for divorce.
The case entered the divorce suit when Garmon was named in the petition for divorce as the "other man." Mrs. Rogers did not contest the suit.
Mrs. Garmon, widow of the slain man, was in court Wednesday and identified a letter which she stated she found addressed to her husband. The letter is purported to have been written by Mrs. Rogers. Mr. Rogers testified that he had become suspicious of Garmon and his wife and had called a "conference" of the Garmon and Rogers families, and that at this gathering his wife asserted that she loved Garmon.
It was a short while after this that Garmon was shot and killed by Mrs. French. Mrs. French was convicted of manslaughter for the death of Garmon and was given a sentence of from eight to 12 years. She is now free under bond pending appeal.

Ex-Russian Prince, Foe of Sovietism, Visitor in Atlanta

Prince Alexis Gagarin, 26-year-old native of Petrograd, Russia, and a noted lecturer on conditions under the Soviet regime, is visiting in Atlanta this week. The prince, whose father, mother and four sisters were executed during the Russian revolution, has been in the United States since 1921, and has established a permanent residence at Philadelphia.
Though still a young man, he already has made many successful lecture tours in Europe and the United States and has published articles in several leading magazines. One of his principal lectures, he says, is entitled "The Satanic Military Discipline of the Soviets."
In this lecture he undertakes to show how the Soviet government manages to hold its army together, an army of which, the prince declares, 80 per cent is fundamentally hostile to Soviet principles. Another lecture entitled "The Destruction of Christianity by the Soviets" deals with the religious conflicts brought about by the Stalin regime. Prince Alexis is visiting friends in Atlanta and may remain here for some time, he says.

GINGER ALE POISONING PUZZLES AUTHORITIES

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 27.—(AP)—The death of Miss Mary Powell, 32 years old, fifteen minutes after drinking a glass of ginger ale, was being investigated today by police and Middlesex county detectives.
An autopsy by County Physician John F. McGovern showed the presence of poison in the woman's body. An analysis of the contents of the bottle revealed the same poison.
Miss Marjorie Wilson, at whose home Miss Powell lived, told police the bottle was one of four she had purchased. The other three, she said, were apparently all right. The bottles were kept in the ice box.

COAST GUARDS SHOOT ONE IN RUM CHASE

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 27.—(AP)—One man was shot, two others were arrested and 200 cases of liquor seized by a coast guard patrol boat early today after a long chase near Plum Island in Long Island sound. Coast guard headquarters reported that the seized speedboat was the Java, listed as a run-runner on the coast guard records.

ORCHESTRA OFFERS ANNUAL CONCERT

An audience which almost filled the auditorium of the Atlanta Woman's Club heard the concert Wednesday night of the Boys' High School orchestra. The orchestra is composed of 50 young musicians, all students at the school, and the event Wednesday night was conceded to be one of the best in the organization's history.
The symphony orchestra was organized under the direction of H. O. Smith, principal of the school, and in its concert Wednesday night played a wide variety of numbers. The Parent-Teacher Association of the school, which co-operated with Mr. Smith in sponsoring the orchestra, assisted members of the faculty in arranging Wednesday night's concert.

Average U. S. Family Needs 3 Homes, Charge

BALTIMORE, Md., May 27.—(AP)—Modern social conditions, Professor Paul Nystrom, of Columbia University, told the National Association of Real Estate Boards today, demands at least three homes in the life of the average American family.
The old idea of a home for a lifetime, he said, is dying out. Families are smaller, household servants fewer and members of the family are more active outside the home. Kitchens and dining rooms, Professor Nystrom, professor of marketing at Columbia, advised, should be so planned that preparation of a meal "should not take more than 10 minutes of light, artistic activity."

WILLIAM C. POTTER VISITOR IN ATLANTA

William C. Potter, New York banker and Georgia sportsman, stopped off in Atlanta Wednesday on his way back to the eastern city from his hunting preserves in Dougherty county. Mr. Potter is president of the Guaranty Trust Company in New York.
While in Atlanta he was the guest of honor at a luncheon at the Atlanta Athletic Club attended by a number of well-known local businessmen. John K. Ottley was host.
Mr. Potter spends several weeks in Georgia during the hunting season each year, maintaining on his extensive tract of land in the southern part of the state a notable bird-dog kennel. His hobby is quail hunting. He left for New York shortly after the luncheon.

Drug Traffic, Piracy Termed Alike by Fish

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—Placing the illicit drug traffic in the same category with piracy was advocated today by Representative Hamilton Fish Jr., of New York. Speaking over the Columbia Broadcasting System in connection with the opening of the Geneva narcotic conference, Fish said the "full exercise of naval, military and police powers of all nations to combat the spread of this drug evil," should be employed.

AMUSEMENT LEVY RAPPED BY LABOR

Opposition to the proposed 10 per cent municipal tax on all amusement enterprises was expressed by the Atlanta Federation of Trades at its semi-monthly meeting Wednesday night.
The amusement tax has been suggested in city council as a means of raising additional revenues to wipe out an anticipated deficit at the close of the current year. Special legislation would be necessary at the forthcoming session of the Georgia general assembly before any municipal amusement tax could be levied.
The central labor body took the position that while certain adjustments might be necessary in the existing tax system by which Atlanta raises its municipal revenues, imposition of a tax on amusements would only temporize with the situation and constitute an opening wedge for all sorts of "nuisance taxes."

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD"

Eve started it and the daughters of Eve inherited it. Eve gave Adam the apple, and it seems that Adam must have passed it on. For every man and every woman has an Adam's Apple. Put your finger on your Adam's Apple—that is your larynx, your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. Consider your Adam's Apple—when you do so, you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants. Reach for a LUCKY instead. Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette which brings you the added benefit of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. It is this exclusive process that expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

How would YOU answer this Question?

“Regardless of price, convenience, etc., what tire do you consider the best tire made?”

ALITTLE bewildered by the shaky statistics of some recent tire advertisers, Goodyear asked the Bureau of Business Research of a great University to put the above question to 205,000 representative motorists to get the real low-down on this matter of tire superiority.

You can put calipers on treads and sidewalls, you can compare breaker-strips and cross sections until the cows come home, without knowing much more than you did before.

What you really want to know and have a right to know is simply this—what kind of service does the tire give?

The only people who can tell you the real answer to that fair question are the millions of other motorists like yourself who are wearing out millions of tires every month.

NEW ORLEANS, May 27.—(AP)—Returning to his apartment in North Jefferson Davis Parkway for lunch at noon today, Joseph Gruner, 44, reported to police he had found his wife and Henry S. Stefflage, a salesman, dead on the floor of a bedroom.

Mrs. Gruner, 40, had been shot through the head and examination of Stefflage's body showed that a bullet had been sent through his mouth into his brain. Police said it appeared that Stefflage had shot the woman and himself. The salesman was identified through cards and letters in his pockets.

A small caliber pistol was found

PACIFIC FLIGHT TO START FRIDAY

TOKYO, May 27.—(AP)—Thomas Ash Jr., American wartime aviator, planned today to start his non-stop flight of 4,885 miles from Japan to Tacoma, Wash., at 7 a. m. Saturday (5 p. m. eastern standard time Friday). He said he expected to complete the journey in forty or fifty hours.

The start across the Pacific is planned from Samushiro beach, Hondo island, 380 miles northeast of Tokyo. Ash's monoplane is the one which failed to bear Harold Garmy and Harold Gatty on a similar voyage last year.

Gruner said he arrived at his home to find the front door open and rushed into the bedroom where, on the blood-spattered floor, he saw his wife lying dead beside the body of a man he did not know. After calling neighbors and police, he was led away in a state of near collapse. Officers found him standing over Stefflage, who weighed about 230 pounds, crying "What a monster! What a brute!"

Members of Tech's First Graduating Class, Technical Education Pioneers, To Meet Here

Here are the Tech students of the somber nineties, the classes of 1890 and 1891 photographed with the shop representatives. The above group comprised the members of the first two graduating classes of the Atlanta institution which since has become world famous. In the top row, reading left to right, are T. S. Grimes, instructor wood department; Percy C. Brooks, class '91; H. L. Smith, class '90; John Toy, instructor machine shop; George G. Crawford, class '90. Second row, left to right, J. B. McCrary, class '91; J. D. Goldsmith, class '91; J. Hardin Jones, class '91; Julius L. DeGize, class '91. First row, left to right, W. H. Glenn, class '91; J. S. Moore, class '91; J. S. Setz, class '91; W. H. E. Duncan, foreman machine shop; Oscar Elsas, class '91; Charles M. Pritchard, class '91.

Georgia Tech's first graduates, members of the 1890, 1891 and 1892 classes, pioneers in technical education in the south, on June 8 in Atlanta will hold their first reunion in 49 years. The event will be a feature of the June commencement program at Tech which will celebrate the fortieth anniversary of the institution's initial graduation exercises and the 43rd year since its founding.

This gathering of the old grads not only will recall early history of engineering, mechanical and textile industries in the south but will bring home to Georgia Tech some of the outstanding industrial leaders of the nation. Notable in this list of Tech's pioneer sons are George Gordon Crawford, president of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, Pittsburgh, and Percy C. Brooks, vice president Fairbanks-Morse Co. and president of E. & T. Fairbanks Co. During his visit Mr. Crawford will be given an honorary degree and other high honors will be conferred upon him.

Not only the graduates, but all registrants in the earliest Tech classes, including faculty and shop organization, totaling possibly 150 who opened and began Georgia Tech, are expected to attend the reunion. Those in charge of the movement have been trying for months to locate all the living members of these classes and the then faculty in order that each may be informed of the event and invited to attend. Probably 50 members will be assembled when the musty class roll is called again.

Two in First Class. It is believed that a complete list of living members of the 1890 and 1891 classes has been obtained. There were only two in the first graduating class, Mr. Crawford and H. L. Smith, now president of Smith Manufacturing Co., Dalton, Ga.

In the second graduating class, 1891, were Mr. Brooks; W. H. Glenn, now president Southeastern Compress & Warehouse Co., Atlanta; J. D. Goldsmith, locomotive department, Southern railway shops, Atlanta; J. H. Jones, Tennessee Products Corporation, Chattanooga; Charles M. Pritchard, consulting engineer, Asheville, N. C.; and J. B. McCrary, president J. B. McCrary Co., Atlanta. Five deceased members of the 1891 class were W. M. Davidson, Columbus, Ga.; Julius L. DeGize, Atlanta; James S. Moore, Atlanta; Oscar Elsas, Atlanta, and L. S. Getz, Marietta, Ga.

When Georgia Tech started its technical educational pioneering in the south in 1888 there were 125 students asking enrollment. Dr. I. S. Hopkins, who had been directing a small engineering school at Emory in Oxford, Ga., was first president of Tech. The faculty consisted of six members besides Dr. Hopkins. Four foremen in the technical shops with three more added during the first three years.

The movement to hold a reunion in 1931 of the first three Tech class members started in 1924 with correspondence on the subject between J. B. McCrary and Oscar Elsas. The death of Mr. Elsas several years ago interrupted the plans. W. H. Glenn joined Mr. McCrary later and the two have been active in the work of locating the members and informing them of the movement. A. R. Colcord and Luke Seawell, Atlanta, compose the committee in charge of locating members of the 1892 class.

The graduates and registrants in the three classes attending the reunion will form the Pioneer Tech Alumni Association, leaders in the movement said Tuesday. This organization will undertake to preserve the earlier history of Georgia Tech and of the engineering, mechanical and textile industries in the south. The principal events of the occasion will be a meeting in the morning and a dinner in the evening June 8.

MEXICO CITY, May 27.—(AP)—A police net today closed on Guillermo Garcia, alias "Al Capone," 12-year-old alleged head of a band of juvenile bandits.

FILIBUSTER PREVENTS VOTE ON TAX DIVISION

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 27.—(AP)—Tactics of a determined minority in the house, coupled with a filibuster in the senate this afternoon to prevent a vote on the measure for distribution of three cents of the present gasoline tax equally among counties, led by John L. Mathews, Duval county representative, the house minority fought through the afternoon by offering amendment after amendment and speaking to each amendment offered.

In the senate, Senator Hodges, Leon, admitted he was filibustering against passage of the bill and held the floor until adjournment.

Prince of Wales Flies Huge Craft In Salute to Ship

SOUTHAMPTON, England, May 27.—(AP)—The Prince of Wales, who flew here today to inspect the new Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain before she sailed for Canada on her maiden voyage, wound up his visit by giving her a parting salute from the air as she steamed out to sea.

After the liner had sailed the prince himself piloted one of the latest flying boats will the Imperial Airways over the Empress of Britain as she moved down The Solent.

With her engines roaring, the prince took the 15-ton airliner down The Solent at a hundred miles an hour, turned and dipped almost to the new steamer's masts in salute.

He turned over the controls to Air Major Brockley and the major passed the Empress once more and the White Star liner Olympic which also was putting to sea.

CORRECT PLAN FIRST STEP IN HEATING

Only Specialists Authorized to Install the Steel-ripped and Gas-tight Lennox Torrid Zone Furnace

Proper planning and installation is absolutely necessary if your furnace is to perform satisfactorily. Every home presents a different problem. Every door and window means lost heat. The construction of your house, its location and exposure, must also be considered. Accurate formulas governing pipe sizes and furnace capacities have been developed through years of experimental work at the University of Illinois, resulting in what is known as the Standard Code of the National Warm Air Heating Association. Torrid Zone dealers figure and install according to those formulas—and are granted the franchise solely on their ability to follow the scientific principles of the standard code.

On proper installation the Lennox Torrid Zone furnace guarantees to replace any part of the Torrid Zone, except grates or liners, if it wears out within ten years from date of purchase. The average life, however, based on actual service records, is 21 years.

HARDMAN DELAYS YORKTOWN PLANS

Failure of Governor L. G. Hardman to name an executive committee is holding up plans for Georgia's participation in the Yorktown sesquicentennial celebration. Dr. George Brown, secretary, said Wednesday. Governor Hardman is chairman of the Georgia Yorktown commission, authorized by the special session of the legislature. Other members are D. C. Bland, Hamilton McWhorter, R. F. King and Mrs. R. L. Turman. Dr. Brown said he had made several efforts to get the governor to name the executive committee, including an appeal made to him after a church service.

"Not knowing his plans," Dr. Brown said, "I decline to go any further until I am instructed what to do."

One of the principal features of the convention will be a tour of various Georgia cities by special train.

POSITION DEFINED BY MOTOR GROUP

Injunctions to halt the payment of taxes or to suspend the enforcement of motor carrier regulatory laws in Georgia are matters for each individual operator to decide, Milner T. LaHatte, secretary and treasurer of the Georgia Motor Truck Operators' Association, said Wednesday. "The officers of the Georgia Truck Operators' Association want to put themselves squarely on record as stating that their purpose is promoting the interests and welfare of the truck business generally and that the association does not seek an injunction against the enforcement of the law requiring payment of taxes or any other purpose," LaHatte said.

William Wendell Jackson Wins Foreman Award With Beautiful Painting of Terminal Station

William Wendell Jackson (at left, above), winner of the Robert L. Foreman award of $100 for the best painting of an Atlanta scene, photographed as he received the check Wednesday afternoon in the High Museum of Art from J. J. Haverty, president of the Atlanta Art Association. Mr. Jackson's painting, entitled "Terminal Station," forms the background of the photograph. Below are shown the three judges whose decision was unanimously in favor of Mr. Jackson's painting. Left to right: Charles Bien, of New Orleans; Mrs. Mills B. Lane, of Savannah, and Dr. Malcolm H. Dewey, of Emory University.

Presentation of the Robert L. Foreman award of $100 to William Wendell Jackson, 21-year-old Atlanta artist, and re-election of J. J. Haverty as president of the Atlanta Art Association featured the annual meeting of that body Wednesday afternoon in the High Museum of Art.

Mr. Jackson's painting is entitled "Terminal Station," and depicts the towers of the local landmark against an afternoon sky, with the arches and buttresses of the Spring street viaduct forming the immediate foreground. It was painted in accordance with the rules of the contest, established by friends of Robert L. Foreman, one of the trustees of the association, which stipulate that the scene of the prize painting shall be laid in or near Atlanta.

The painting was singled out, in the words of the judges, "for its simplicity of design, strength of architectural construction, and harmony of color, seen daily in Atlanta and unappreciated by the casual observer."

Honorable mention was awarded to D. B. Wright, for a painting entitled "Convicts," and to H. C. Sheffield for a view of the Fulton county courthouse. Judges were Mrs. Mills B. Lane, of Savannah; Charles Bien, of New Orleans, and Dr. Malcolm H. Dewey, of Emory University.

Other officers of the art association are: Charles Loridan, Walter C. Hill, Mrs. J. M. High, Mrs. Samuel M. Inman and Mrs. Samuel N. Evans, vice presidents; Robert F. Maddox, treasurer; Dameron Black, assistant treasurer; Lewis P. Skidmore, secretary and director of the High Museum, and Miss Myrtle Folsom, assistant secretary.

To the 12 trusteeships which expired Wednesday the following were named: Mrs. Floyd W. McRae Jr., Harold Hirsch, Cator Woolford, Mrs. Richard W. Johnston, Mrs. Samuel M. Inman, Bolling H. Jones, Mrs. Henry B. Scott, Frank Hawkins, Henry C. Heinz, William Randolph Hearst, Mrs. J. M. High, Walter C. Hill and Samuel N. Evans.

Resolutions expressing the association's sense of loss in the deaths of Lewis H. Beck and Dr. Thomas P. Hinman, both of whom took an active interest in its affairs, were unanimously adopted at the meeting Wednesday. The resolutions were introduced by Mrs. John K. Otley. A rising vote of thanks was also given to Mr. Haverty, president of the association, for his services in the past. The vote was given at the suggestion of Bolling H. Jones, one of the trustees.

The Samuel C. Dobbs prizes were awarded to Ernestine Timmer, who received first place and $15 for a group of etchings, and to Ras Beall, who received $10 for a fresco composition. The Junior League awards were presented to Miss Dorothy Perkins and Claud Herndon. The former received first prize of $15 for a portrait of a girl, and the latter second prize of $10 for an original design for a tray.

$750,000 ADVANCED TO CITRUS EXCHANGE

TAMPA, Fla., May 27.—(AP)—The Federal Farm Board has approved additional advances to the Florida Citrus Exchange to the extent of $750,000 for the purpose of financing mergers of substantial grower-shippers, it was announced today by C. C. Commander, general manager. The loans will be made on each merger project after financing agreements have been approved by the farm board.

"The action of the Federal Farm Board indicates to the Florida Citrus Exchange the farm board's satisfaction in the manner in which the previous farm board loan of $2,800,000 was handled," Mr. Commander said. "It is evidence of the farm board's confidence in the exchange and of the board's willingness to be of further assistance in improving conditions in the Florida citrus industry."

GREEN OFFERS PLAN FOR ECONOMIC RELIEF

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—A warning that less than normal spring employment gains indicate worse suffering next winter than last unless the problem is faced immediately was issued today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Green offered a 4-point program for reducing distress, and encouraging economic recovery, headed by the suggestion that employers guarantee continued work to as many of their employees as possible "without taking undue risk."

He also proposed maintenance of wage levels; equitable distribution by industry of all available work among employees on a pro rata basis, and community organization for relief work.

Saying employment gained slightly in the first half of May, the labor head added the increases had been "so small that they leave the problem almost as serious as at the first of the year," considering that the sources of many families are becoming exhausted he said the problem was "far more serious."

WASHINGTON-ALABAMA ROAD ROUTE MAPPED

DANVILLE, Va., May 27.—(AP)—A movement to have a single federal highway number placed on roads running through the Piedmont section from Washington via Atlanta to Alabama was launched here tonight.

Representatives of Virginia and North Carolina cities attended the meeting at which an executive committee was empowered to act for the Piedmont Highway Association, and a road running from Washington by way of Warrenton, Culpepper, Charlottesville, Lynchburg, and Danville, Va.; Greensboro, Salisbury and Charlotte, N. C.; Spartanburg and Greenville, S. C.; Athens and Atlanta, Ga.; and Tuskegee, Ala., was selected for the designation.

Aquatic Mail Service Disrupted by Shark

HONOLULU, May 27.—(NANA)—A shark has finally broken up the quaint postal system of the island of Niuafoou, in the Fiji Islands group.

For years a native of the island swam a mile out from shore every four weeks to meet the mail steamer. The native carried with him outgoing mail and brought back a package of incoming letters.

A communication from the island said the last incoming mail was lost when a shark attacked and killed the swimmer. Hereafter a large canoe will be used.

STATION IS SOUGHT FOR PINE BELT TESTS

Many Cities Offer Sites for Proposed Naval Stores Experimental Unit.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, May 27.—Cities and localities in all parts of the pine belt of Georgia and Florida have offered free land and facilities to aid the United States department of agriculture in establishing a federal naval stores station in the south. Dr. W. W. Skinner, assistant chief of the chemical and technological research unit of the bureau of chemistry and soils, revealed today.

Dr. Skinner has just returned to Washington from a tour of inspection with Dr. F. P. Veitch, in charge of naval stores investigations in that bureau; V. L. Harper, assistant silviculturist of the forest service, and other members of the department's committee, which was selected to choose a site suitable for a permanent naval stores station.

In searching for the best site the committee visited Savannah, Pembroke, Waycross, Homerville and Valdosta, in Georgia, and Jacksonville, Gainesville, Ocala, Lake City and Jasper, in Florida.

The committee was received everywhere with the greatest cordiality, and the generous offers of free land and facilities have made the decision in regard to the location of the station exceedingly difficult," said Dr. Skinner, who predicts that the new station, wherever it may prove best to locate it, will receive the enthusiastic backing of the naval stores industry.

The bureau of chemistry and soils and the forest service are now seeking to determine the location for a station which will most effectively serve all the interests of the naval stores industry. Dr. Skinner stressed the importance of selecting a site which is accessible to the largest possible number of naval stores producers and one where there is ample supply of gum in the vicinity to carry on a series of experiments over a period of years.

Two Detroit Airmen Near Flight Record

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 27.—(AP)—Walter Lees and Frederick Broxey, Detroit aviators, seeking a new world's non-refueling flight record, passed their sixtieth hour in the air at 8:47 p. m. (E. S. T.) tonight and dropped steadily toward the goal.

If the fliers remain in the air until 10:10 a. m. (E. S. T.) tomorrow morning, they will have equaled the record of 75 hours and 23 minutes set by two Frenchmen in non-refueling Africa. They must fly on until 11:10 a. m. (E. S. T.) in order to break the record, as rules of the National Aeronautical Association specify.

The monoplane is equipped with a Diesel motor, burning fuel oil, and is the first Diesel-motored plane to attempt a record flight of the kind. This is the third time Lees and Broxey have tried for the mark in the plane. They failed here twice before, the last time when only three hours from the goal, because of stormy weather.

A Growing Post Office means a Growing City

As far back as the record goes, Atlanta's postal figures have climbed and climbed. This sensitive barometer has consistently pointed out the progress and development of "Distribution City."

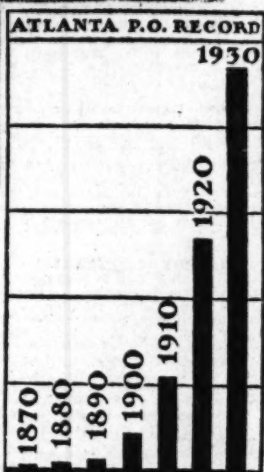

And now, to put it in more tangible form—a great new Post Office Building comes to supply capacity that long has been needed, and to prepare for the growth that obviously lies just ahead of us.

C & S National will play a big part in future growth just as it has contributed its share in the past.

HOWARD ASSAILS PRISON SYSTEM

Jurist Denounces Lack of Segregated Facilities for Youthful Offenders.

Judge G. H. Howard Wednesday scathingly denounced prison facilities of the state and county, which he said provide no accommodations for housing first offenders or extremely youthful offenders.

The judicial attack on the present system was voiced after three youths entered pleas of guilty in Fulton superior court to charges of automobile larceny. The three were Woodrow Peters, Winfred Sanders and Charles Hirsch. Each was sentenced to serve six months on the chain gang.

Judge Howard instructed the three to face the jurors. He talked for several minutes to the jury, pointing out to them the apparent youth of the defendants, only one of whom was past the age of 20. The judge asserted there should be a special place of confinement for first offenders, and youths, in order to segregate them from "hardened criminals," and declared that were he a member of the state legislature he would do something about the matter or resign.

SAMUEL C. DOBBS RESIGNS AS HEAD OF GRADY BOARD

an efficient, unbiased and unselfish chairman of the board of trustees as they were so fortunate to have in Mr. Dobbs. He further resolved that the clinical conference present to the council in the city of Atlanta either by a committee or by letter an urgent appeal that some compromise be made to retain Mr. Dobbs as chairman of the board of trustees since it is going to be enormously difficult to replace him with one who will act with his unselfish efficiency and in whom the citizens of Atlanta and Fulton county have the same confidence.

In quitting his post, Dobbs said he accepted the appointment in the hope that he could be of service to Atlanta and to Atlanta's poor, and expressed confidence in his colleagues saying: "I feel sure that the able men who have so unselfishly labored with me since the first of January, will carry on and that the work will not materially suffer from my retirement."

Murphy released for the first time, the letter which he wrote to Dobbs demanding that he quit because he is not a citizen of Fulton county or Atlanta.

No Desire for Office. Dobbs' letter of resignation follows: "Hon. J. C. Murphy, Provisional Mayor Pro Tem., Atlanta, Ga.

"Dear Sir: "This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 2, which reached my office during my absence from the city, hence the delay in replying. "In accepting a membership on the board of trustees of Grady hospital, I was actuated solely by the desire of rendering a service to the city of Atlanta and particularly to the indigent poor, for whom Grady hospital was built. I have never had any desire for public office, nor do I care for any remuneration, political or otherwise. In the performance of my duties as chairman of the board of trustees of Grady hospital I have sought no personal favors, nor have I been actuated by any other desire than that of being of service.

"Apparently, from your letter, city council feels that I am not in a position to render an adequate and unselfish service to Grady hospital, and I am, therefore, tendering you this letter as my resignation, effective immediately.

Regrets Unfinished Work. "Since 1924, when I moved my residence from Atlanta to Rabun county, I have been a citizen of Rabun county. At that time it was my purpose and intention to permanently retire from business activities and to enjoy, with my wife, the later years of my life in quietude and retirement. Circumstances, however, have made this impossible.

"My regret in laying down the work at this time is that it is unfinished; but I feel sure that the able men who have so unselfishly labored with me since the first of January will carry on and that the work will not materially suffer from my retirement. Respectfully, "S. C. DOBBS."

Letter of Murphy. Text of Murphy's letter demanding that Dobbs quit follows: "Mr. Samuel C. Dobbs, "First National Bank Bldg., "Atlanta, Ga.

"My Dear Mr. Dobbs: "The tax assessors have advised me that you have declined to file personal property tax returns to the city of Atlanta and that in response to their request such returns you have advised them that you are not a resident of Atlanta or Fulton county.

"It is needless to say that I am very much surprised indeed to learn that this is true. Your right to select your residence is certainly unquestioned. I do question, however, your right to exercise the functions of government in the city of Atlanta without assuming the burdens, duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

"It is the established rule in the city of Atlanta that all of its employees must be residents of the city. I think this applies with peculiar force to those occupying executive positions and administering the laws of the city.

"Permit me to suggest that if it is true that you have elected not to be a resident of this city, I believe you would be relieving yourself and the officials of the city of Atlanta of embarrassment by tendering your resignation as a member of the board of trustees of Grady hospital.

"I assure you that I have the very highest regard for you personally, and that it is with the greatest personal regret that I dispatch this letter to you. I really think that you are doing splendid service and that your ideals in connection with the operation of the hospital are splendid.

Respectfully yours, "J. C. MURPHY, "Provisional Mayor Pro Tem."

N. A. TRUST SHARES FILES APPLICATION Following close on the statement of Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, that recent exchange rulings in regard to investment trusts of the fixed or restricted management type had been misunderstood, comes an announcement that North American Trust Shares, one of the largest of fixed investment trusts, has filed application with the exchange under the requirements.

George B. Cortelyou Jr., president of Distributors Group, Incorporated, sponsors of North American Trust Shares, declared that he believed this action could be taken as an answer to rumors that some of the foremost trusts were antagonistic to the exchange's rulings.

NU-GRAPE IGNORES U. S. BAN ON NAME

Company Head Says All State and National Statutes Are Followed.

Continued use of the name "Nu-Grape" and manufacture of the product under the same formula "at least for the present" was promised Wednesday afternoon by Henry B. Nicholson, president of the Nu-Grape Company of America, on the heels of an order by the federal trade commission, Washington, commanding discontinuance of use of the name.

The Nu-Grape company formerly was a Georgia corporation, but in December, 1924, the company was reorganized as a Delaware corporation, under the same name and with the same officers and stockholders. The principal office has been located here since that time, however, although no business has been done by the Georgia corporation.

"This is a seven-year-old fight," Nicholson said. "Our product complies with every state and federal law, and we propose to continue to manufacture it under the same name we are now using. There possibly may be some adjustments in the formula later, but we do not now propose any."

Other plants in addition to the one in Atlanta are at Chicago, Los Angeles, Baltimore, Kansas City, Dallas, Little Rock and Jacksonville. In its order the commission said: "Nu-Grape" syrup is pronounced to be an artificially colored invert sugar syrup containing added acid, principally tartaric, and not more than 20 per cent of grape juice, while the "Nu-Grape" beverage, made from the syrup, is found to be artificially colored, sweetened with invert sugar and acidulated with added acid and containing no more than 4 per cent of grape juice.

"Nu-Grape" syrup is held not to contain sufficient natural fruit or juice of the grape to give it its color or flavor. The color is derived

Seckatary Hawkins To Make Whip-It Top Presentations

Seckatary Hawkins is going to present the 500 Whip-It tops he is giving away to his little friends in Atlanta, in person this afternoon.

He already has mailed cards to the winners of the letter-writing contest he staged and for every one of these cards presented at 2:30 this afternoon at the big sixth floor restaurant of the Davidson-Paxon Company store he will give one of the wonderful new tops—the original Ralston that are, as he says, "more fun than a barrel of monkeys."

More than that, he is going to make a talk to his boy and girl friends and then show them just how to spin the top to get the most fun out of it.

He will tell them also how to play contests and games with it that will undoubtedly be as popular in Atlanta as they have been in the other cities in which the Whip-Its have already been introduced.

Remember, the time is 3:30 o'clock this afternoon; the place is the sixth floor of the Davidson-Paxon store, and you must bring your notification card with you that the Seckatary mailed you two or three days ago. And you can bring anybody with you that wants to see and hear the Seckatary and watch him spin the top.

It's going to be lots of fun for everybody and every winner should be there—on time!

Bride, Badly Burned at Dance, Owes Life to Alert Husband

Mrs. Florence Bodine Kominers, 20, who was burned severely Tuesday night when a dress she was wearing at a dance at the Biltmore hotel became ignited from a lighted cigarette, was reported considerably improved Tuesday, so much so that physicians had abandoned plans for an emergency skin-grafting operation first considered necessary.

Mrs. Kominers still was in bed at her home, 930 Barnett street, N. E., but her doctors reported that she probably would be entirely recovered within a week.

Mrs. Kominers, who, as Miss Florence Bodine, was a popular member of the Commercial High school class of 1925, was attending a dance of the high school alumnae association with her husband when sparks from a cigarette in the hands of someone standing near her ignited the evening dress which a month ago had been her wedding gown. Her husband, who was standing near-by, grabbed a rug and wrapped it around his wife, extinguishing the flames. He was burned badly about the hands. Mrs. Kominers was treated by the hotel physician and later given treatment at Georgia Baptist hospital before being removed to her home.

Mrs. Kominers was voted the outstanding student at Commercial High during the year in which she was graduated and was awarded a silver cup for having obtained that honor.

Summer Weather To Stay Awhile, Forecaster Says

There seemed little doubt in Atlanta Wednesday that summer had arrived and there still will be no reason to doubt it today, according to C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist. The fine weather that the city has enjoyed for the last few days will continue today, he said.

Wednesday the mercury sank no lower than 64 degrees and climbed to 85. Today it is slated to repeat the performance.

from schools in many parts of the world. His father being connected with the diplomatic service and serving as consul in several foreign countries, Mr. Adamson obtained his schooling in Brazil, Honolulu, Melbourne, Australia, and the University of Pennsylvania. After practicing law in Philadelphia for six or seven years, Mr. Adamson came to Cedarhurst to organize the Cedarhurst Land Improvement Company in 1901. In 1900 he built three cotton plants which he later consolidated into one big concern, the Cedarhurst Cotton and Export Company. He then developed the Cedarhurst Warehousing Company and later the Wayside Inn and the Wayside Laundry.

During his activity in the various commercial enterprises which he headed he found time to serve his community in other ways, being one of the prime factors in all plans to better the city. He was a delegate to the national republican convention in 1906, 1904 and 1908 and alternate delegate to the progressive party convention in 1912.

How To Avoid Spring Fever

Based up all winter, without fresh air exercise, and eating few or no fresh green vegetables, allows the system to become all clogged up—stomach, intestines, colon, liver, kidneys and even sweat glands—with poisonous refuse matter which must be cleaned out—your human "flues" unstoppered—or else you feel slow, sluggish, drowsy, no appetite or energy and sometimes ache in head and joints.

The human house should be thoroughly cleaned, just as you do the home, to make it more livable, and this you can best do with Jacob's Laxative Salt, by simply taking two teaspoonsful before breakfast for several mornings. After the first dose you feel a pleasant sensation of returning energy and vigor, a clearing up of the head, a natural liver and bowel action—it thoroughly cleans the system of its winter accumulation of toxic poisons—and may be had at any drug store.—(adv.)

The Economy Center of Atlanta

GRAND HOTEL

By VICKI BAUM

INSTALLMENT XV.

"You know the chances as well as I do," said Dr. Zinnowitz, and his words sounded like a reproach. He came back, of course, to the situation with regard to the English affair. Manchester, Burleigh & Son, of Manchester—that in my opinion is the salient point. The Chemnitz Company is an after the English market for their ready-made goods. Burleigh & Son have this market to a great extent in their pockets. They have large and constant demands for finished cotton goods, but they themselves produce only the yarn, and they are eager to export their yarn to Germany and to import the finished articles in exchange. They have a great interest in coming to terms with the Chemnitz concern. As to why they do not simply go to them direct, that, my dear Preysing, you know as well as I do. The Chemnitz enterprise is not solid enough for these Englishmen. Its capital is too small. It would be another matter if the Chemnitz Company amalgamated with the Chemnitz concern. The idea seems to be that in that case, if you'll forgive me saying so, your somewhat business would be freshened up and the somewhat too enterprising Chemnitz concern sobered down. It comes to this, then, that Burleigh & Son are interested in the Saxonia Company, only if it is amalgamated with the Chemnitz Company, and the latter will only amalgamate if you have the deal with Burleigh & Son, consequently the English market, in your pocket. Nothing can be done till the agreement between you and the other side is completed. If I may give you my frank opinion, the negotiations must have been very incompetently conducted, otherwise we could not have got into such a blind alley. Who has been negotiating with Manchester?"

"My father-in-law," Preysing, replied quickly. That was not the fact, and Zinnowitz knew it. He swept his hand over the table as though he brushed Preysing's reply to one side. "I have been on—'in close touch, and I can tell you exactly how they feel about it. Schweimann has dropped all idea of the amalgamation and Gerstenkorn has begun to waver. Why? The big S. I. R. combine is putting out feelers to ascertain whether the Chemnitz people can be bought out—not amalgamated, but bought right out. Of course, Schweimann and Gerstenkorn would remain as directors and be given salaries in addition, whereas now they are saddled with all the risks. On the other hand, if the affair with Burleigh's were in black and white, when—such at least is my humble opinion—they would turn down the offer from the S. I. R. and amalgamate with you. That's their position. But what yours is with Manchester, there I am not quite so clear. I had a somewhat guarded letter from your father-in-law—"

Once again, Preysing interrupted the lawyer's clear exposition with a stupid question. "Is this offer of the S. I. R. definite or only talk? How much have they offered?"

"That is beside the point," said Zinnowitz, who did not know.

"The affair with Burleigh's isn't exactly in a bad way," Preysing said hesitatingly.

"Not exactly in a good way either, it seems to me," the lawyer replied promptly.

Preysing stretched out his hand towards his portfolio, drew back, and then finally took hold of it. He took his cigar out of his mouth, lit it, and chewed, and at last, at the third attempt, he pulled out a blue folder in which were filed letters and copies of the replies.

"Here is the correspondence with Manchester up to date," he said quickly, and held out the file of letters. He had no sooner done so than he regretted it. The backs of his hands were once more in a sweat. He began to play with a ring on his finger, a habit of his, but it got him no farther. "In the strictest confidence," please remember," he requested urgently. Zinnowitz replied only by a glance out of the corners of his eyes as he read the letters. Preysing was silent.

"Yes—" said Dr. Zinnowitz as he put the letters aside, "and now I come back once more to the starting point. The negotiations with Burleigh & Son are still going on. Consequently we still have this trump card to play in our efforts to bring pressure on the Chemnitz people. If we postpone a meeting with them and Burleigh's refuse to come to terms, as seems very possible from their last letter of February 27, then we hold this trump card no longer. Then we shall have no card to play whatever. We agree, then? The conference will take place tomorrow and we will do all in our power to get the draft agreement signed. If only I knew—"

Zinnowitz smiled at this. "Why it's common knowledge in any case," he said. "However, as you think best. It is your responsibility. Now is the time to show your mettle. The thing would be to let one or two of the letters fall into Schweimann's hands, quite by accident. A selection, needless to say. A few copies. But—as you please. It is your responsibility. I am more than ready to accept it. I would not hear of it."

As stubborn as a mule, thought Dr. Zinnowitz, and he snapped the lock of his portfolio. "As you please," he said, and his lips tightened as he got up to go.

Suddenly Preysing gave in. "Have you anyone who could make copies of a few of the letters?" he asked. "It is your responsibility. I would not hear of it." "I don't like it. It isn't straight," he said. "The negotiations with Chemnitz began long before the affair with Burleigh's, nor was there a word said about it between us and Gerstenkorn. Now of a sudden everything is made to turn on it—we are not going to the length of letting them look through our correspondence. I wouldn't hear of it."

"Who—did you say?" asked Preysing, on whom the name made an unpleasant impression.

"Flammchen, Flamm the Second. Sister of Flamm the First. You know her don't you? She's been twenty years with me. Flamm the Second often helps us out when we have more typing on hand than the office can manage. I have taken her with me when I have had to go away on business and Flamm the First could not be spared. She is very quick and intelligent. I should have to have the copies by 5 o'clock. Then I'll manage it quite unofficially, as I am having dinner with the Chemnitz gentlemen. Flammchen can bring me the copies direct to the office. I'll telephone at once to Flamm the First to tell her to send her sister here. What time have you engaged the conference room for tomorrow?"

Decision on Chain Store Tax Far Reaching in Potentialities

Upholding of Indiana Levy by Supreme Court Opens Way to Many Such State Laws.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The far-reaching quality of the supreme court decision upholding Indiana's graduated tax on chain stores is just being studied minutely by the legal officials of many corporations potentially subject to the same kind of legislation. Competent authorities are convinced that a very wide range of businesses and industries can be subjected to the same kind of tax whenever the legislatures of the states care to set out on the road now shown to be opened to them.

Among the industries believed to be potentially affected are chain filling stations, chain bakeries, chain hotels, chain theaters. Other lines of business less directly subject to the same principle, but nevertheless believed to be potentially embraced, are fleets of trucks, busses or taxicabs, landlords renting large numbers of houses, groups of oil wells under single ownership, in short, any variety of what may be called multiple industry.

The mere taking of many industries subject to a new tax is not, standing alone, sensational. The startling quality of the recent decision can only be understood by grasping the fact that the Indiana innovation deliberately discriminates between big units of business and small units, between one-man businesses and organized businesses, and deliberately aims to foster the small by penalizing the large. Upon a single store, the Indiana law puts an annual tax, called a "license fee" of $3. Upon chain stores, however, the annual tax is graduated on a rising scale from $10 on each of the first five stores up to $25 on each store over 20.

It is this graduated feature of the new tax that is novel and startling. The intention of the Indiana law was not primarily to get the revenue. The real intention was to put a handicap on chain stores for their competition with single ownership stores paying only $3. The maximum, however, can be enlarged, to practically an indefinite extent. The same political sentiment in favor of small business as against large which led to this first adoption of the graduated tax on chain stores can in future legislatures and in other states raise the rate of the tax to heights threatening the existence of the chain. One state already has a chain store law which puts an average tax of $420 on the stores of one chain. That would seem to be a real handicap.

It is true, the decision of the supreme court last week implied that the court would not sustain any such extreme application of the tax as would be "unreasonable." In the same decision, however, the dissenting justice, Sutherland, reiterated the familiar dogma of John Marshall that "the power to tax is the power to destroy." Justice Sutherland, disapproving the Indiana law and dissenting from this present decision, was able to show that in the past, the power to tax has actually been used deliberately to destroy a system of state banks issuing notes.

This device of an ascending tax on

INJUNCTIONS HIT 6 BURIAL GROUPS

Action Taken by W. B. Harrison and Three Policy Holders.

A broadside against burial associations that are alleged to be operating as industrial life insurance concerns without complying with the state law as such, was filed Wednesday when five injunctions were filed against as many burial companies by W. B. Harrison, state insurance commissioner. Another injunction was filed against a sixth group by holders of the burial certificates.

A number of well known establishments were named in Harrison's injunctions, filed against the following: James C. Chandler Funeral Home, Dunn Brothers, Inc.; J. L. Morgan, doing business as National Cemetery & Burial Co.; Brandon & Williams, Inc., of Hapeville, and A. C. Hemperley & Sons, Inc., of East Point.

The sixth petition was filed by Adolphus A. Grizzard, Mrs. A. A. Grizzard and Frank T. Grizzard and named Barclay & Brandon Co. as the defendant.

Harrison alleges, in each instance, that the companies are doing business as industrial life insurance companies without having state charters as such, and asks that a receiver be appointed and that the concerns be declared insolvent.

Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court, made all six of the cases returnable to his court on May 30. Four other injunctions were filed last week by Harrison against burial unions, either to prevent issuance of charters or to have the associations declared insolvent.

In the petitions filed Wednesday morning it was alleged that a total of more than 6,000 certificates had been sold to persons in and around Atlanta by the five defendants. The certificates, it is alleged, entitle the holder to a suitable burial with the payment of a small weekly fee during his lifetime.

In the sixth bill it is alleged that Frank T. Grizzard took out two certificates for Adolphus A. and Mrs. A. A. Grizzard on March 10, 1930, and that the company is doing business in violation of state insurance laws. The petition asks that Barclay & Brandon be adjudged in the insurance business, that it be enjoined from canceling the contracts of the petitioners, and that the court appoint a receiver and liquidate the company or the benefit of policyholders.

Happiest Romance of Aquarium Shattered by Florida Newcomer

NEW YORK, May 27.—(UP)—One of the happiest romances of the New York aquarium, that of Mr. and Mrs. Phineas T. Grunt, of the well-known Grunt family, apparently has been shattered by a frail but beautiful young thing from Key West, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Grunt have lived for five years together in their tank, apparently one of those ideal, companionate unions always talked about when lady fish get together for their Wednesday afternoon swimming circle.

But into their life has come this Key West creature, a gorgeous yellow Grunt called Betty!

Betty plopped into the Grunt home one other day and things have just been in a terrible state since. Betty made straight for Mr. Grunt, and right in front of the missus, too.

Mrs. Grunt's anger knew no bounds and after stewing around a bit, watching her husband kissing the impudent newcomer, she went into action.

She dived first at Betty and then at her spouse, upsetting them no little, and then she went after friend hubby, banging him around the tank for all she was worth.

Betty idled in a corner, turning from yellow to red and from red to blue—a habit most yellow grunts have in emotional moments.

Last word from the Grunt home indicated that Mr. Grunt and Betty are still "on fire," as the Broadway going goss, and that Mrs. Grunt is just about ready for Reno.

ROOSEVELT PRAISES FRENCH FARM. TARIFF COUSIN HELD IN JAIL FOR SLAYING DOCTOR

BY RAYMOND J. CROWLEY.
NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, returned today from Europe, expressing praise for the French protective tariff on agricultural products.

He said this was probably one of the factors which made the depression less severe in France than in some countries. He declined to answer a question as to whether the French system would work well in the United States.

"Among those with whom I talked was Andre Tardieu, minister of agriculture," the governor said. "One of the things for which France has been working is a good balance between agriculture and industry—not too much industry, not too much agriculture. This is probably one of the factors which make the economic depression not so serious in France as elsewhere."

"That's what we are working for in this country. France produces about enough agricultural products for her own needs. Generally speaking she neither imports nor exports any. Therefore the French tariff comes into play as to whether to encourage agriculture. This has proved very valuable."

The city tug Macom, pennants flying, carried a party of state officials and relatives to meet the governor and his son, Elliott, aboard the liner Bremen. The governor said his mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt, who suffered an attack of influenza in Paris was much improved and was expected home in three weeks.

M'DONALD DENIES CITY HALL CLAIM

Not Responsible for Settling Foundation, Contractor Says.

Disclaiming responsibility for any settling of the foundations of the new city hall, John A. McDonald Wednesday filed letters with Acting Mayor G. Everett Milliken purporting to free the National Construction Company, builders, from any claim from this fault.

The communications were turned over to Alderman Guy Coleman, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee, for consideration of that body.

The letter which Mr. McDonald, as president of the construction company erecting the super-structure offered, was written November 14, 1923 by G. Lloyd Preacher, architect.

Foundations for the building were laid by H. G. Fleming & Co., while excavations were made by another firm, Nicholas Contracting Company.

Text of the letter on which McDonald bases his contention follows:

"November 14, 1923.

"This will authorize you to take possession of the city hall building site and such work thereon completed by other contractors, and from now on the responsibility for work completed, the work executed, also the property will be your responsibility.

"You, of course, realize that you are not held responsible for settlements that may occur in connection with placing work covered under your contract on the footings and foundations performed by others, but you are to accept such work of others in its present condition.

"Kindly acknowledge receipt of this letter, and oblige.

"Very truly yours,

"G. LLOYD PREACHER & CO., Inc.

MISS HUNT AND MR. NORTHEN WED IN BIRMINGHAM

Popular Couple United By Brilliant Ceremony

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 27.—No wedding of the season has commanded more interest than that of Miss Jennie Hood Hunt, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hunt, and Charles Swift Northen Jr., formerly of New York and Atlanta, celebrated at the First Methodist church in Birmingham, Ala., Wednesday evening at half after 8 o'clock and witnessed by a large and fashionable assemblage. Dr. Robert E. Goodrich, pastor of the church, where the bride's family has worshiped for generations, read the marriage ceremony and pronounced the vows. The church, innumerable times the scene of important weddings, was elaborately decorated for the marriage of these two representatives of prominent families of the south, who have been feted and complimented at countless functions since their engagement was announced in March. Araca palms, smilax, Easter lilies with hundreds and hundreds of cathedral candles combined to make the effective setting for the nuptial event.

Candlelight Used.
The church illumined by candlelight displayed cathedral tapers arranged in groups of three, five and seven, placed in the chancel, in the smilax-screened windows and above the smilax-valued paneled balcony, where seven-branched candelabra outlined the semi-circular gallery. Preceding the arrival of the wedding party Jesse Walker at the console of the organ entertained at a recital, the numbers included: "Prelude," Mendelssohn; "Dreams," McAnis; "Intermezzo," Cavaleri Rusticani; "Mazurka," "In Paradisum," Dubois; "To a Water Lily," MacDowell. The bridal chorus from Lehigh, announced the procession and the bride party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." Palms and sprays of smilax concealing the choir stalls made a background for the altar covered with white satin. Vases of Easter lilies stood in relief against the gold-embroidered dossal, flanked by prie-dieu and filled with white flowers that hung from the columns supporting the balcony.

Bridal Party.
The groomsmen, James Robinson Jr., Ed Van Winkle Jr., Dan Conklin, all of Atlanta; James Wiley, Robert Ingalls Jr., Beverly Nabers, Hugh Comer, all of Birmingham, and Robert Cole, of Rockingham, N. C., led the bridal procession. Following them came the bridesmaids, Misses Kitty Barrett, Florence Hanson, Rebekah Perry, Christine Morrow, Georgia Leroy, Martha Henderson, all of Birmingham, and Miss Lennie Estelle Hunt, of Houston, Texas, cousin of the bride, taking their places inside the chancel.

Mrs. Roy Dorsey, of Chicago and Atlanta, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and Mrs. E. W. Leake Jr., preceded the brides of honor, Miss Matilda Hood of Birmingham and Miss Jane Brantley of Washington, D. C., cousins of the bride. The bride's attendants were in charming frocks of lace moded off shoulder bodice with deep ming, and she wore a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Charles Northen, of Atlanta, mother of the bridegroom, was a distinguished figure in a gown of cream lace over apricot satin. Her corsage was of orchids. Mrs. William Hood, grandmother of the bride, was becomingly gowned in black lace and wore a shoulder bouquet of lavender orchids.

Upon a table covered with point de Venise and flit lace the ring-shaped bride's cake stood. Embossed in orchids and valley lilies and filled with natural flowers, bride's roses and lilies of the valley, the cake was surrounded at the base with large candy orchids and natural ferns. All the appointments were in silver and ivory tapers in branched candelabra furnished the soft lighting effect. The coffee table was placed in the sun room and punch was served in the loggia, where a huge silver bowl was flanked by vases of roses.

Wedding Trip.
Mr. Northen and his bride left during the evening for a wedding trip, the destination remaining a secret. For a eling the bride wore a smart suit of dark blue flat crepe, the short jacket sleeves edged with white summer ermine. Her hat was a straw model of navy blue and white with other accessories in harmony. Upon their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Northen will be at home in Sylacauga, Ala., where Mr. Northen is connected with the Avondale Mills.

Fastest Field in Indianapolis History Awaits Starter's Gun

38 RACERS PASS CENTURY MARK IN PRELIM TEST

Speed of 100 Miles an Hour Made by 38 of 40 Entries.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27.—(P)—The fastest field ever to start a 500-mile automobile race—38 of the 40 cars qualifying at more than 100 miles an hour—was assured tonight with completion of elimination trials for Saturday's race at the Indianapolis motor speedway.

So keen was the competition that six cars that had met the minimum qualification speed of 90 miles per hour for ten miles, were eliminated.

As the starting field was made up, it consisted of 39 racers powered by eight-cylinder motors, four by 16-cylinder plants and six of four cylinders each.

Five front-end creations made the grade, among them that driven by Billy Arnold, Chicago, to victory in 1926, and the original front-driver of 1925, which finished second.

Arnold, with an average of 116.080 miles an hour, made the best speed of the qualifying trials, but he did not gain the pole position because of his failure to qualify on the opening day last Saturday. Russell Snowberger, Philadelphia, piloting a part-stock car, won the pole position with an average of 112.706 miles per hour.

Ten part-stock cars made the grade, the slowest of them hitting the bricks at 99.345 miles an hour.

The sportsmanship that has made Ralph De Palma an idol of speed fans for many years, again was exhibited here today when he lost an opportunity to try to qualify his rotary valve car, by withdrawing from the track while another driver completed his test.

As Joe Huff, Indianapolis, started his trial, De Palma also was flagged onto the course. When he saw that Huff was trying to qualify, he pulled into the pits, and under the time limit rule, automatically lost his opportunity to try for a starting position.

Marion Turpie Wins Way to Third Round
MONTCLAIR, N. J., May 27.—(P)—Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake, the medalist, today advanced to the third round of the women's metropolitan golf championship, defeating Miss Margaret D. Bryan, of Rumson, N. Y., 6 and 5.

Mrs. Lake, formerly of New Orleans, now lives in Flushing, L. I.

Surviving Records.
THESE are fast days, but there were others. Not all the records of yesterday are in the dust. On Tuesday Nick Altrock was waiting anxiously for the returns from Philadelphia. He wanted to find out whether the Athletics had made it 18 straight. They hadn't.

"A few of us boys went out and picked up 19 straight back in Chicago 25 years ago," he said, "and that's a record that is still safe. I was getting worried, but it's all right now. Old Nick still has his share of an American league record, anyway."

There will be another somewhat anxious observer at Philadelphia this week, watching them shoot at a pair of records he hung up over a dozen years ago. His name is Ted Meredith, probably the greatest middle distance runner of all time. He will see a flock of western athletes shoot at his quarter and half-mile records, and as fast as they are it will take some extra stepping to equal or better the Meredith contribution.

Any one who can run the quarter faster than 47 2-5 will be searched for a concealed motor cycle after the race is run.

BENNY EASTMAN, of Stanford, is a human flyer. He has run the quarter in that time, but not in an open competition. The first time he ran the half-mile young Eastman was only a second back of the world's record. That gives you some idea of how fast he can travel.

The Rugby Game.
How many know that rugby football has just concluded a successful campaign in the east and is already beginning to spread as far west as Chicago?

About 125 turned out for rugby at Yale and nearly 150 at Harvard. Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania and Syracuse all had good teams, but the headline was the New York Rugby Club, which won a majority of its games, beating Yale and Princeton 3 out of 4, Yale winning one start.

There is a reason. George Pfann, the old Cornell star, is a member of the New York Rugby Club, and Pfann can play this game as well as the other. Pfann is now an assistant district attorney, checking up on the Diamond case. The New York club also has P. S. De Quex Scott, once a star on the New Zealand All Blacks, world's rugby champions.

Rugby not only got away to a fine start this spring, but also paved the way for a much bigger season next year when Chicago and Boston will join New York and Philadelphia outside the college zone.

Cornell and other universities will help build up the college side.

The Carnera Case.
It is now fairly evident that Primo Carnera will have to be sent against

CUP ACES READY FOR PLAY TODAY AT WASHINGTON

Shields Meets Robson in First Match This Afternoon.

By John F. Chester.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(P)—Two of the brightest net stars of two countries, Frank X. Shields, of New York, and Guillermo Robson, of Argentina, were squared away tonight for the opening volleys tomorrow of the final American Davis cup tie.

With Sidney B. Wood Jr., of New York, and Ronaldo Boyd, giant Argentine star, who will contest the second singles match, the players of both teams retired to the Chevy Chase Club late this afternoon after a day more filled with international amenities than tennis.

With President and Mrs. Hoover, their son, Herbert Hoover Jr., Ambassador Malbran, of Argentina, and a group of invited diplomatic guests for the Davis cup hopes of North and South America played a brief exhibition on the White House court.

Immediately afterwards they were whisked away to the Pan-American Union for the ceremonies of the draw and a formal luncheon, followed later by a reception for the diplomatic corps in their honor, given by Secretary and Mrs. Stimson.

The youthful United States team, with only one day of practice after its victory over Canada, managed to sandwich in a brief period of play after luncheon.

The matches played against the beautifully-landscaped background of the White House court were limited to six games each. Teamed with Boyd, of Argentina, Gregory Mangin, of Newark, played Lucio Costello and Adriano Zappa to end their match 3-6.

Shields and Wood earlier had the advantage in a match with Mangin and Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, the game ending 4-2.

Shields appeared particularly effective with his cross-court kills at the net and a hard driving back court game. Wood likewise contributed a series of returnable smashes from the forecourt.

Bearing out his reputation, Boyd, the 210-pound ranking No. 1 Argentine player, won his single service game with ease, contributing an error to give his opponents a lone point on the one ball they managed to return effectively.

Robson did not play today, Edwin C. French, the Argentine non-playing captain, said he was withheld from even a brief practice to give him all the rest possible before his match tomorrow.

AMERICAN PROS SEEK BOB'S TITLE IN BRITISH OPEN

Tournament Will Start Monday With 214 Entries Ready.

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, May 27.—(P)—More than 200 of the world's finest golfers will gather here next Monday for the British open championship and among them 14 Americans.

With Bobby Jones letting the title go by default, the ten professionals in the American contingent loom much more formidable than the amateurs.

The pros include such stars as Tommy Armour, of Detroit; Gene Sarazen, Johnny Farrell, MacDonald Smith, Horton Smith and Joe Kirkwood, of New York; Joe Turnesa and Tony Manero, of Elmsford, N. Y.; Willie Hunter, of Los Angeles, and Arthur Straub, of Maplewood, complete the professional list.

George Voigt, of New York, who reached the fifth round of the British amateur ten days ago, stands head and shoulders above the other American amateurs who include Joshua Crane, of Boston; John De Paolo, of Los Angeles, and Tom Maguire, of Stockdale, Cal.

Argentina has entered five players, the amateur Mario De Maria and the pros, Jose Jurado, Hector Freccero, Marco Churio and Tomas Genta.

In the list of 214 entrants are representatives of nine nations.

The "old course" of Carnoustie where the open will be played, is almost as famous in Scotland as St. Andrews although this is the first time the event ever has been taken there.

Carnoustie has at least 400 years of written golf history for local

Grocer Is Fined $25 For 'Richard' K. O.

BALTIMORE, May 27.—(P)—Thomas Lusso, who looks like a wrestler himself but carries the punch of a pugilist, was fined $25 and costs today for landing a knockout blow on the chin of a wrestler last night.

Lusso explained in police court he took matters in his own hands when Dick Davis-court refused to break a strange hold on Gino Garibaldi. The match ended with no decision.

Lafayette Cogswell, chairman of the state athletic commission, appeared against Lusso, the promoter refusing to prosecute.

Diegel, Cox Enter Massachusetts Open

WORCESTER, Mass., May 27.—(P)—The entries of Leo Diegel and "Wiffy" Cox, the north and south champion, for next week's Massachusetts open golf tournament at the Worcester Country Club were filed today.

The field will number about 90 and will include two former national champions, Willie MacFarlane, winner of the 1925 open title, and Jesse Guilford, 1921 national amateur champion.
